Welcome Delegates

VOLUME XXV SANTA ANA, CALIFORNIA, NOVEMBER 5, 1948 NO. 5

International Relation Clubs Assemble Here For Conference

More than 200 delegates to the Fifteenth Annual Pacific Southwest Conference on International Relations will be on the Santa Ana College campus today and tomorrow. This is the first time that any two-year college will be the host in the Pacific Southwest area.

Held annually since 1931, with the exception of the year 1941, this conference coincides with others of similar nature throughout the United States. The Carnegie Endowment for International Peace plays a very active part in the holding of these conventions which give an opportunity for college students to exchange views on international problems, as well as the privilege of hearing various outstanding speakers on world affairs.

The theme of the conference this year will be: "World War III—How Can It Be Prevented?" The group feels that the alarming tendencies, present today, which are leading us toward war should be a matter of great concern to all of us.

Program For Friday

Registration occupies the first hour on Friday, from 9:00 to 10:00 a. m. Immediately following will be the first General Session which will be given over primarily to introductions. The first round table discussion groups then assemble from 10:45 to 12:45 p. m.

Delegates may attend any round table they desire. The University of Southern California will lead the group pertaining to the United States, George Pepperdine College will have charge of the European area, the University of Redlands will guide the round table on the Middle East, San Diego State College will provide the leadership for Hispanic-American affairs, and Mount St. Mary's College will have charge of the Far East discussions.

Following the Round Tables, Dr. Eugene Staley, Educational Director of the World Affairs Council for Northern California, will address the delegates at the first luncheon from 1:15-2:30 p. m. His subject will be: "The Citizen's Role In World Affairs."

The Round Tables will meet for their second session from 2:45-4:30 p. m. under the same group leaders. In the evening, from 7:00 p. m. on, the annual banquet will take place, featuring an address by Professor Adamantios Th. Polyzoides, Professor of International Relations at the University of Southern California. Professor Polyzoides will have as his subject: "World War III—It Must Be Prevented."

Program For Saturday

Saturday's program will open with the third and final round table discussion from 9:30 to 11:15 a. m. These will be followed by the second General Session from 11:30 to 12:45 p. m. At this session the selection of the site for the 1949 convention will be made, and various general matters discussed.

The concluding event will be the final luncheon from 1:00 to 2:30 p. m. at which time the delegates will hear an address by Professor Raymond Fisher of the University of California at Los Angeles. Professor Fisher will speak on Russia and the Central European picture.

Simmons To Preside

Grover Simmons, Santa Ana College Student Body President, and President of the Santa Ana College International Relations Club, will preside at the General Sessions of the conference. The other officers of the Santa Ana club are: Maurice Duke, Vice-President; Mary Jo Coombs, Secretary-Treasurer; and Jane Beauchamp and Glenn Randall, Directors. Faculty Advisers for the Santa Ana club are: Dr. Edwin T. Force, Chairman; Ernest Crain and George Andrus.

Expenses and Lodging

There is only one fee for the entire conference, and that amount is five dollars ($5.00), which includes registration fee, the two luncheons, and the banquet. A master plan has been drawn up to supply quarters in hotels.

"World War 3—It Must Be Prevented" Polyzoide's Theme

Dr. Polyzoides, widely known for his journalistic career and lectures will speak tonight at the International Relations conference in the cafeteria of S.A.C. at 7:00 P.M. His subject will be "World War 3—It must be prevented."

An American citizen for a quarter of a century, Dr. Polyzoides came to the United States in 1908 from Athens, Greece, his native land. After graduating from the Law School of the National University of Athens, and doing considerable newspaper work, he continued his journalistic career in America, writing for the New York Times.

Active in the founding of the Foreign Policy Association in New York, he has for years taken part in several important Public Relations and World Affairs organizations.

Dr. Polyzoides has been on the faculty of USC since 1935 in the departments of International Relations, history and journalism. He is on the editorial staff of the Los Angeles Times and now writes a widely read, daily column on world affairs.

He covered the United Nations Conference in San Francisco from April to June of 1945 for the Los Angeles Times and was in Washington for the opening of Congress in September of 1945.

His radio career began in New York in 1924 and between the years 1935-1945 he gave over 2,000 broadcasts from Los Angeles. Dr. Polyzoides platform addresses up and down the Pacific Coast number over 3,000.

Polyzoides is a prized member of a score of learned societies in-

Santa Ana Agriculture Department Exhibits At Orange County Fair

A pictorial display and sample products from the new SAC agriculture department were exhibited at the Orange County Fair, George Andrus, agriculture instructor said today. Starting Thursday, Oct. 28, the fair lasted until Sunday, Oct. 31, and was held in Anaheim.

Andrus asserted that the class progressed very well. Since this area is mainly agricultural and students are close to citrus farms this is a big advantage.

"Students enrolled in 'ag' courses will be able to get useful and interesting actual experience visiting nearby farms and ranches," he explained. Some are now engaged in part time farm work with numerous job opportunities during the different seasons.

Photographs in the pictorial exhibit were taken by Glenn Ballger, El Don staff photographer, and showed the various activities of the class, mainly in field work. Sample oranges and cross-bred fruit, grown by SAC students, are displayed in the college's exhibit.

WS-WAA Meeting Held In Fullerton

Theme of the AWS-WAA conference held in Fullerton, Saturday, October 30, was "The College Woman in her Community". The conference began with registration and refreshments taking place from 8:30 to 9:30 a. m. The general session from 9:45 to 11:30 took place in the auditorium with Georgia Briscoe presiding as AWS president from Fullerton.

Noted speakers at the general session were Dr. W. L. Boyce, rector of Fullerton JC, who gave the welcoming address from the administration and Mr. T. Stanley Warburton, superintendent of Fullerton schools, who gave a brief greeting.

Introductions and announcements were made by Georgia Briscoe. The address was given by Dr. Katherine Whiteside Taylor, coordinator of Family Life Education, Long Beach City College, who spoke on the subject "The College Woman in a Changing World". Discussion Groups from 11:30 to 12:45 were attended by the AA and AWS delegates from southern California colleges.

Eugene Staley Will Speak To Delegates At IR Conference

Eugene Staley, noted author and lecturer in the Economic and International Relations fields, will speak on the subject "The Citizen's Role in World Affairs," at the first I.R. luncheon today from 1:15 to 2:30 at the SAC cafeteria.

Taking his Ph. D. in Economics from the University of Chicago in 1928, Staley went to Europe for further study on a fellowship of the Social Science Research Council and then came back to teach Economics at the University of Chicago. He has since been a Professor of International Economic Relations at two leading post graduate institutions, the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy and the School of Advanced International Studies at Washington D. C.

Associated With UNRRA
Staley, serving as consultant to the administrator of Export Control and the Bureau of the Budget, was associated with former Governor Herbert H. Lehman in the Department of State in preparation for the launching of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration (UNRRA).

At the United Nations Conference in San Francisco in 1945, he was Secretary of the Committee on Functions and Powers of the General Assembly.

He is a Consultant on economic affairs to the United Nations and has assisted in drafting the first report on Asiatic economic reconstruction.

Staley has written several books on economics and politics including: "Raw Materials in Peace and War", "World Economy in Transition", "World Economic Development", "Co-author of Raw Materials", and "Problems and Policies".

Editorial: Intramural Sports

Glancing through the many college newspapers we receive we can't help noticing the amount of publicity given to intramural sports. Right now many of the colleges and universities are sponsoring intramural football with competition provided by the various service clubs, frat houses, and other groups. The competition is keen and interest and feeling runs high.

The idea is an old one. Long before the advent of the single team representing the college, student were competing with each other on their own campus. Athletics were intended to educate the American man and woman to develop their bodies and give them the sense of good sportsmanship. They still are. But more interest is given to the men and women who can play the best and represent their school well. With this high specialization only a small percentage of the students really go in for athletics in a big way. The rest must content themselves with being watchers.

This is not meant as sour grapes for us who don't play on the teams. But it seems that we should break away from the practice of watching other people play and letting that be our sport for the week.

In intramural sports almost everyone is given the chance, even encouraged to participate in every type of sport. Some people may claim that this is too small a college to have intramural sports or that no one wants to participate in intramural sports any more. We doubt if this is true. There are enough clubs on the campus with enough spirit to make up many fine teams in any sport played here at Santa Ana college.

It is a little late to organize football teams among the clubs but the basketball season is not far away. Basketball is a fine sport and it only takes five men to make up a team. This doesn't eliminate the women either. There is no good reason why they couldn't have a fine intramural league.

Then there is volleyball, handball, swimming, ping pong, bowling, tennis, and many more sports both on and off the campus that are interesting, educational, and just plain fun.

If we get the ball rolling there's no telling how far we can go. The question is, "Do you want to try?"—M.D.

Lab Experiments, Chemical Equations Keep Chemistry Students Busy

By PAT JOHNSON

Do you have troubles? Do things annoy you? Are you puzzled? Think nothing of it. Your problems are slight compared to those of the chemistry lab students. Among the many problems they have to solve are determining the equivalent weight of metals, learning how to use analytical balance, and experiments determining the electrolysis of water.

At present, chemistry students are working on an unknown acid, with the hopes of solving the problem to the best advantage. Many students are concerned now with the mathematical problems which are part of the chemistry work, while a few are having trouble with the metric system, which is a decimal system of measures and weights.

Chemistry 2A has been making oxygen and hydrogen, with good results. They also had the problem of making nitrogen, which scared some of the students, according to Mrs. Etta May Cottrell, chemistry instructor. So far there have been no explosions.

Separate quizzes will be given in the laboratory classes, in addition to the regular classwork quizzes, this year. Last year this was not done. Mrs. Cottrell said that this, contrary to popular opinion, would be a better system.

Chemistry 1A is in the process of their first seven experiments which must come out within five per cent of the theoretical answer. Most of the students are having trouble with their experiments.

Mrs. Cottrell said that her worst problem was her chemistry 2A class, which has 95 enrolled. The chemistry 1A class is not so much of a problem, as they have only 54 students enrolled.

CAMPUS CAPERS

By KIRK SOOY

In the past few days we have received numerous letters from recent Santa Ana graduates. Concerning one written in great haste and consideration from Colorado, we would like to correct a glaring error. Joe Honer has informed us that in general usage when a girl marries, she usually assumes the last name of her husband and not the husband the name of his wife. If this is the accepted procedure, Betty and Joe Honer, who were married last summer, are attending the University of Colorado.

From northern California way we received a letter from Ellie Skaggs, who is making the University of California her home for the present. Apparently the alumni in general desire to know what qualifications they must possess in order to get their name in the El Don. That brings up a point and here's the answer. We can't print the dope unless we know what you are doing. So how about letting us in on some of the events that take place over the weekend.

Halloween Parties

We did manage to capture a little information concerning a few of the parties that took place last weekend. Several Halloween gatherings kept the majority of Dons and Donas out of trouble. Saturday night found many Santa Anans trekking to Anaheim in search of Joyce Sifke's home. Included among the adventuring throng were Gloria Lindsay, Elmer Kelly, Grace Reed, Jack Denny, Pat Williams, Floyd Lucier, Ruth Chapman, Jay Burgess, Phyllis Seekins, Buel "Boots" Dunham, Lloyd Thomas, Bob Thompson and Paul Fuller.

Following Friday's game with Riverside, a group of students proceeded to Lynn Dawe's home in Corona. It would be impossible to give a complete list of all those who were there, but some of the more evident included Bud Reynolds, Don Nielson, George Billingsley, Bob Smith, Bill Rogers, Zain Simonson, Bonnie Brennot, Goodell Warren, Jean Weber, Sue Rechtwig, Jay Burgess, and Marjorie Waterman.

Another Party

Sunday evening found the El Don staff assembled in mass at Kirk Sooy's small hovel in Balboa. Maurice Duke, Frank Errota, Peggy Trine, Dick Reish, George Gaylord, Marjorie Rohne, Pat Johnson, Mildred Gurley, Jimmy Hambacher, and Daro Williams formed the nucleus of a small but festivity minded group.

It has been brought to our attention by Elvin Milbrat, one of last year's yell leaders who is attending Cal, that we neglected to mention a number of alumni who are enrolled in other higher institutions of learning. We find that Bill Anderson, University of Colorado, Betty Lomax, Santa Barbara College, Ken Boyce and Caroline Crane, California, and George Borgman at the University of New Mexico were all omitted unintentionally.

Don Footballer Owns Breaks Fine Horses

Football is not the only hobby of end Carlos Lillywhite. Having been raised on a ranch in Douglas, Arizona, he learned the art of breaking horses at the early age of eight, when his father presented him with his first horse. His father's ranch attracts many tourists and is well known for its fine horse stock.

Carlos, himself, owns several head of horses and hopes someday to return to the ranch and the horse-breaking. At the moment he is attending SAC and majoring in P.E. As yet, he has not decided to which University he will transfer upon graduation.

Cheryl Kreutel, S.A.C. majorette and eye catcher on Friday nights at the football games, has been a professional dancer for the past four years. Cheryl is 18, 5'7", light brown hair and blue eyes. She attended Orange high school and was enrolled in S.A.C. for one semester when she left to join Buster Crabbe's Aqua Parade.

Her favorite sport is football. Cheryl enjoys steak dinners, Ray McKinley, Margaret Whiting, Gordon MacRae. Her favorite songs are "Mississippi Mud" and "On a Slow Boat to China."

Speaking of songs, Cheryl has just had a song written for her; it is titled "This Dream is Real," it was written by Jimmy Lands, a family friend. This song is expected to be out in about two months and her picture will appear on the cover.

There is no love in sight for her as she is planning to continue her dancing. Cheryl plans to leave soon to go back on the road with the Aqua Parade.

THE ALUMNI TRAIL

Seen at the party held by Lynn Dawe last Friday night after the Riverside game were alumni BILL ROGERS, ex SAC student body prexy, BRUCE PIERCE, VANCE McCARTY, and EARL THOMAS. THOMAS and McCARTY are now attending USC.

El Don received a very gratifying letter from one of our popular alumni who is attending San Diego State College. We will pass it on to you.

Hi Gang:

I've been meaning to write to request that you send me a copy of the El Don but they sure keep us busy here. Mom sent me the clipping from the paper that I have filled out and am returning it to you. It sure is a swell idea and means a lot to me to get the paper and try to keep up with the old gang.

HAROLD MOOMAW is shown above (right) as he instructs two of his students in the art of mechanical drafting. He recently was honored by the State Board of Registration for Engineers.

Moomamw Accepted By Board As Registered Mech. Engineer

Harold A. Moomaw, head of the engineering department at Santa Ana College received notice on October 22 that his application to the State Board of Registration for Civil and Professional Engineers was accepted by the September 9 action of the board and that he is now a registered professional Mechanical Engineer.

Moomaw's first stay as an instructor at SAC was from 1936 to 1942. In this period of five years he instructed in Engineering Drawing, Descriptive Geometry, Structural Drawing, Engineering Surveying, Architectural Drawing and Aeronautical Drawing. During the summer vacations of 1940 and 1941 Moomaw was a preliminary tool designer for the Douglas Aircraft Company at Santa Monica.

During 1942, Moomaw took over the job of heading the engineering department at Santa Ana College. He worked in this position until 1944. In 1944, the University of California claimed the talents of instructor Moomaw. He worked with the University as area supervisor for Engineering Science and Management war training in the Los Angeles Harbor Area.

From August of 1945 to February of 1946 Moomaw was a mechanical engineer for the Civil Service with a P-3 rating at the United States Naval Shipyard.

From 1945 to the present date Moomaw has been heading the Engineering department at Santa Ana College. The rating of Professional Engineer is one that is difficult to obtain and qualifications are very rigid. Other than Moomaw, there is only one other registered professional engineer in Santa Ana.

Andrus To Give Talks

George Andrus, psychology and philosophy instructor at Santa Ana College, is giving a series of four talks on "Psychology in Youthful Living", at the First Methodist Church in Santa Ana on Sunday evenings beginning at 6:15 every Sunday.

SAC Band Receives Award For Participation In Halloween Parade

For participation in the Halloween parade in Anaheim last Saturday night, the Santa Ana College band was awarded a complimentary prize for marching and playing in competition, stated Robert G. LaMasters, SAC music instructor, today.

YMCA Group To Meet Saturday In Municipal Bowl

"1000 YMCA members will be in Santa Ana on Saturday night November 6, when Santa Ana College plays host to the Young Men's Christian Association," stated Bill Helm, SAC business manager and faculty member, today.

It was announced that the purpose of the meeting would be to help the local YMCA in its efforts to sponsor a county wide get-together of the young "Y" members.

The YMCA group plans to meet outside the Santa Ana Municipal Bowl at 7:30 p.m. and enter the bowl together. The young men's club will be entertained during the half-time activities at the game Saturday night by an exhibition football game.

DINNER FETE HELD BY YWCA

Young Women's Christian Association members presented a "Pot Luck" dinner in the student union of Santa Ana college, Wednesday night, Nov. 3, at 6 P. M. The dinner was followed by a business meeting.

This was the first parade appearance of the SAC band. La Masters disclosed however, that the Don's marching unit have made arrangements to march and play for the Armistice day parade in Santa Ana on November 11.

After the end of the football season, plans have been set for the band to concentrate mainly on concert work for the rest of the year, LaMasters stated.

Other than the regular activities of the music department, several members have formed a German band. The students working on this activity are: Dave Bordenhagen, playing trumpet, Ted Honer on the Tuba, and Walt Schirmen expounding on the baritone horn.

New WAA President

New president of the WAA is Linda Jones, with Gloria Linsday as vice president, Pat Williams as secretary-treasurer, and Phyllis Seekins as historian and publicity officer. Basketball manager for this term is Marjorie Graves, while Pauline Scott fills the position of Tennis manager.

Elections for president and vice president were held last year by members of the WAA. The secretary-treasurer and historian were elected this year, and basketball manager and tennis manager were appointed by the WAA cabinet.

SPORT-SHOTS

By FRANK ERROTA

Approximately 10,000 people will file into the local Municipal Bowl tomorrow evening to watch the Bakersfield college Renegades and the Santa Ana Dons play a game of football, but to Coach Andrew Jackson "Bill" Cook, it's more than just a football game.

Hasn't Forgotten

Cook hasn't forgotten last year, when the Dons went north to face a Renegade team that was in the running for the Little Rose Bowl bid. Coach Jack Frost didn't pull any punches either, his inspired and well oiled grid juggernaut, sparked by Charlie Sarver, Wilbur Sites, Paul Baldwin and other notables, proceeded to smash the locals by a 48-7 count, the worst defeat in Don hogskin history.

The feeling around Santa Ana is that the tables will be reversed Saturday night, but it will not be easy. Bakersfield has a record of three wins and three losses this season, but they have shown tremendous improvement of late and will undoubtedly be keyed up for this contest. The northerners would like nothing better than spoil local chances of a Little Rose Bowl bid.

Bad Game Out of System

This observer picks the locals to win their eighth consecutive game, believing the Dons got a bad game out of their system at Riverside last week and will function more smoothly against Bakersfield.

I don't claim to know what went wrong at Riverside, but it seems that a few gridders were definitely overconfident, and that does not make for a good football team. It is true that Riverside was fired up for the Dons and played by far the best of the season, but that was expected.

Against Bakersfield, the Dons will have to block and tackle harder, the blocking was noticeably lacking last week. A win over the Renegades will boost Don stock toward a bowl bid, but after Bakersfield come Mt. San Antonio, Fullerton and Orange Coast, and none will be pushovers, they are all pointing for Davey Don.

Prospective Cagers

Basketball season is apparently just around the corner, and Armand "Doc" Cure, present Don backfield coach, will apparently inherit some nifty talent for the coming casaba campaign.

Informal workouts at Santa Ana high school have lured several prospective candidates. Lettermen Bob Levy and Ralph Longbotham have worked out with some highly-heralded newcomers like Doug Wagner, former Santa Ana high school hardwood sensation, Elwyn Goings, Harold Novick, Kay Matsumoto, Dewey Allaire and a few others.

Monogram wearers Les Nieblas, small but speedy, and Dick Warner, six-five pivotman, are expected to report shortly. After the completion of the current grid campaign, hoop hot-shots like Nick Stevenson from Canton, Ohio, Harry Higgins from Coach Cure's home-state of Rhode Island, Lloyd Thomas and Menge Armendariz from Santa Ana hi will report for the hardwood sport.

Revenge Minded Dons Face Strong Bakersfield Grids Tomorrow Night

BOB "BUCKY" BUCHBERG, Don fullback scampers for yardage against Riverside in Dons 20-6 conquest of Tiger grids. Tiger back Elvin Harris (14), appears out of play. Louis Armendariz, (24), Santa Ana reserve tailback is in background.

Thrice Beaten City Squad Threat To Undefeated Locals

Seeking revenge for the most humiliating defeat in Santa Ana college history, a 48-7 plastering handed them by Bakersfield last year, Coach Bill Cook's Dons play host to those same Bakersfield Renegades in the Municipal Bowl tomorrow night. The local stadium is expected to be full and unlike last year, the unbeaten local eleven and not Bakersfield is a candidate for the post season Little Rose Bowl bid.

Half Don Givens Wins Vandermast's Don-of-Week Award

Don Givens, who two years ago was told that he would never play football again, won Vandermast's Don-of-the-Week award for his splendid performance against Riverside last week.

Givens, who has looked better with each game, returned to the grid fold this season after staying away from the gridiron since the Santa Monica game of 1946, when he suffered a severe neck injury.

Don replaced Lloyd Thomas in the starting line-up when the latter was injured in the Cal-Poly opener and he has been a starter ever since. He performed the full sixty minutes of the Chaffey game and is a tower of strength on defense.

Givens is also one of the better blockers on the team and also does some fancy ball carrying from his halfback berth.

Coach Jack Frost's horde suffered three early season defeats by Hartnell, Compton and San Diego, but the defending Metropolitan loop kingpins have rebounded the last two weeks, trampling Dixie college of Utah 91-6 and Sacramento 13-7.

Gifford Triple-Threat

The Oil city collegians are sparked by a flash freshman back named Frank Gifford, who is six feet tall and scales 185 pounds. Gifford like Johnny Fouch, can run, kick and pass. Other Gade backs who bear watching include Sam Barton, Alec Thompson, a colored speedster, Len Doster and Don Casida, a 1947 veteran. This backfield doesn't match last year's wrecking crew of Sarver, Sites, Chapin and Baldwin, but has shown great improvement from week to week.

The Renegade line boasts five 1947 regulars, including end Melton McClanahan, who made the Dons All-Opponent team last season. Other veterans include tackle Ed Knapp, and the middle of last year's forward wall, guards Louie Elizalde and Jerry Beaver and center Dick Clark.

Hood May See Action

There is a possibility that fullback Jack Hood, out since the Chaffey joust, may see duty tonight. Bob "Bucky" Buchberg is listed to start in the backfield however, along with Fran Kluewer, Don Givens and John Fouch. Don Rehm and Bill Davis at ends, Jay Burgess and Bob Miles at tackles, Bob Zelinka and Irwin Spector at guards, and either George Vieira or Keever Jankovich at center, will probably comprise the opening Don line.

Cookmen Tame Stubborn Tigers 20-6; Tie Hornets For Eastern Loop Lead

Santa Ana's black-clad legions slashed to a 20-6 victory over stubborn Riverside last Friday night before a huge crowd at Wheelock Field in Riverside. The win placed Santa Ana in a tie with Fullerton for the Eastern Conference lead.

The Dons, swinging through their seventh game without a defeat, used a diversified attack, against a Tiger team fired with a determination to repeat a Tiger triumph of 1946.

Riverside Scores First

In the first period a deceptive-gaited Tiger halfback by the name of Tyree Ellison, bewildered the Dons with his jabbing, slashing ball-toting. Riverside moved 53 yards with Ellison going over from the four, to put Riverside out in front 6-0. It was the first time a touchdown was scored on the ferocious Don line.

Santa Ana shot out in front in the second quarter, Fouch, who completed 9 out of 18 throws, for 115 yards, passed to Ed Nearing for 27 yards and a touchdown. Don Vaughn added the extra point for a 7-6 lead.

Fouch Rambles 74 Yards

The second Don score came minutes later, when Fouch broke off right tackle, reversed his field and ran 74 yards before being brought down on the Tiger 2 yard line. Bob Buchberg slanted over on the next play. The extra point was blocked and the Dons led at halftime 13-6.
